DESCRIPTION :

The GameSir Pocket Taco is a compact controller designed for vertical mobile gaming, perfect for retro games, platformers, arcade titles, and casual games. It connects via Bluetooth to your Android smartphone (and other compatible devices), turning your phone into a small handheld console.

Its foldable and ultra-light design (only 62.2 g) makes it easy to carry in any pocket. It features a D-pad and membrane ABXY buttons, as well as tactile-switch triggers and bumpers for clear and responsive input.

It comes with a 600 mAh battery for many hours of gameplay, smart power on/off to save energy, and a built-in keyboard mode, making it more versatile for different apps and games. The grip area includes silicone pads to protect the phone, and its open-bottom design keeps the charging port accessible so you can charge your phone while playing.

Everything can be adjusted through the GameSir app, where you can customize controls and features, including turbo functionality on the main buttons.
