DESCRIPTION :

GoJump is a smart jump rope that connects to your mobile device and turns cardio into a game. As you jump like with a regular rope, the app tracks your jumps, calories burned, and time, while offering challenges and mini-games to make exercise much more fun.

You just need to pair it with your phone, choose a mode (training, game, daily challenge, etc.), and start jumping. On screen, you'll see your progress, pace, and records, along with rankings and challenges to compete with yourself or friends.

It is lightweight, adjustable to your height, and designed for use at home, in the gym, or outdoors. The rechargeable battery allows for many sessions, and through the app you can review your history, track your improvement over time, and stay motivated.

It's ideal for children, teens, and adults who want to move more, burn calories, and improve their fitness without cardio becoming boring.
