An ideal weight loss companion

High-accuracy weight and full body composition is just the beginning. Get to know a scale that coaches, rewards, and records all data automatically. And with tools at hand such as trend screens and nutrition tracking, you can set goals — and achieve them.

Weigh smarter

While people focus on weight, full body composition helps you know what goes into that number, so you can pinpoint your efforts.

Be a trendsetter

Don't get thrown by one "bad" day — the trend screen shows the previous 8 weigh-ins to help you see the big picture so you won't get discouraged.

See yourself in a better mirror

Every weigh-in appears in the Health Mate app automatically, via WiFi or Bluetooth sync. With your history available 24/7, you can see what works, reinforce positive behaviors and stay focused on your goals.

Nutrition tracking: Knowledge is power

What makes your numbers go up or down? Health Mate gives you perspective. Fact: Users who set a goal, track nutrition, and step on the scale regularly lose on average 4x more weight.

Howdy partner

Health Mate plays well with others, pairing with more than 100 health and fitness apps. Easily connect with favorite food tracking apps such as MyFitnessPal, Lose It!, and Weight Watchers. Or train for a race with Runkeeper, Runtastic and MapMyRun. Whatever you decide to add to the mix, Health Mate centralizes all your information to help you achieve your goals.

More reasons to step on it

Unique scale screens motivate you to hop on the scale every morning:

When connected to WiFi, the scale serves up a daily, local weather forecast to help you plan your outfit and your day's activities. And if you track activity, the scale's screen can display the previous day's steps, to reinforce just how much movement impacts the numbers you see on the scale.

For the whole family

Up to 8 users can be recognized automatically, and each will have their data independently synced to their Health Mate profile.
