DESCRIPTION :

The original iPad screen protector for creators and doers. An iPad combined with an Apple Pencil is a powerful tool well suited for almost any challenge. Creating digital art, taking notes in class or a meeting, and even replacing a laptop completely - the iPad is up for it. But one thing still isn't right: drawing or writing on the iPad feels like plastic on glass. It's slippery, unprecise, and quickly tiring.

The Paperlike fixes this issue.

With its Nanodots® surface technology, the Paperlike screen protector provides just the right amount of friction, so the Apple Pencil glides smoothly over the screen. It is built to emulate the feel of a pencil on paper, a feeling coming up short too often in digital work life.

STRENGTHS :

- More precision while drawing
- A more legible handwriting
- Better endurance and less hand tiring
- Enjoyable feel of paper The Nanodots® surface reduces the typical rainbow effect of matte screen protectors and Pencil tip usage to a minimum. Tens of thousands of Artists, students, notetakers: Creators and doers all around the world love their Paperlike. Finally, they have an excellent device in their iPad.
