Next-generation hybrid connected watch

REF : WI-HWA10-MODEL1

EAN : 3700546708275

EXISTS IN : BLACK, WHITE, ROSE GOLD

DESCRIPTION :

ScanWatch 2 is part of the new generation of hybrid connected watches and takes advantage of the latest version of HealthSense™ software and the latest sensors, giving you in even more measurements and more precision. This connected watch also includes a new OLED display in shades of grey for improved display accuracy and retains its exceptional 30-day battery life.

STRENGTHS :

Day and night temperature monitoring

For the first time, a health watch provides you with day and night temperature fluctuations. These fluctuations can be an indicator of the onset of other health problems, and can help you improve your ability to manage your performance and recovery through training temperature variation zones.

TempTech24/7 Module

We've combined a revolutionary miniature heat fluctuation sensor and an ultra-precise temperature sensor with calibrated heart rate and accelerometer data to give you the ultimate in temperature variation analysis.

Cardiovascular health notifications

High & low resting heart rate
Irregular heart rate

On-demand measurements

ECG recording and atrial fibrillation detection
Blood oxygen saturation levels

Electrocardiogram

Medical-grade electrocardiogram*

Detect a potential cardiac anomaly and take stock of your cardiovascular health in 30 seconds

TEMPERATURE MONITORING

Identify early signs of disease by monitoring variations in body temperature

RESPIRATORY HEALTH

Assess part of your respiratory system by measuring blood oxygenation
