EXISTS IN : BLACK

DESCRIPTION :

Whether you're a gamer streaming on Twitch or a podcaster with a growing audience, the JBL Quantum Stream Talk will make your voice heard. The super-cardioid plug pattern of this sleek, functional design makes it ideal for a single voice, ensuring that background noise won't be heard. An integrated shock absorber in the sturdy microphone holder also helps ensure that your streams and recordings are as quiet as possible. Monitor the audio stream from your headset via the 3.5 mm connection and multi-function control knob, which also lets you adjust microphone gain and volume, and quickly mute the sound if you cough or sneeze. Use the included JBL QuantumENGINE PC software to adjust equalization, activate noise reduction and perform a quick mic test, all from your computer screen.
